Trick My Book Truck Contest

The contest is part of the 2009 Oklahoma Teen Summer Reading Program Be Creative at Your Library.

Any material can be used to trick your book cart. This includes, but is not limited to, pre-bought, homemade, donations and library supplies. Creativity is the key.

Contest starts June 1, 2009 and ends July 31, 2009

- Teens from grades 6th to 12th can enter.
- One entry per library, library branch, school, or institution can be submitted before the deadline.
- Your librarian will submit photos of the book carts via e-mail. Photos should include the front, back and sides of the cart. Photos become the property of the Oklahoma Department of Libraries.
- Submitted entries will be reprinted as needed and viewable at: www.oklibshare.org
- No purchase necessary.
- Privacy policy: No private information will be shared with anyone.

Winners will be announced October 2, 2009.

The Oklahoma Summer Reading Program is a joint project with the national Collaborative Summer Library Program. The Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS), through the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), federally funds the program.
